With F.M.L.

At one time during a meeting last week of representatives of City and County, one would gather The Cameron Herald was some kind of culprit for printing letters by public officials about public business to public officials.

Mayor Wilson in City's behalf and County Judge Harden in County's behalf both hopped a bit when they mentioned letters published in this newspaper which explained the controversy over the cost of covering county grassfires with city equipment.

We can agree that a meeting was held which otherwise might not have occurred and that some kind of agreement will culminate which otherwise might not have developed.

The Herald accepts responsibility for trying to put things in focus, thank you, gentlemen, and appreciates the readership engendered.

James Hollas, former Herald staffer and late of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times and now a junior in the Uoff journalism school, will be sending dispatches to The Herald on Austin events of Milam interest.

Newspapers are always looking for firsts and it may be that The Herald will be the only weekly in Texas with an unsyndicated Austin correspondent.

107-107-107

Lloyd Albertson, Herald oil and feature editor, continues to break news of oil developments that give Herald readers as much direct information as any Cen-Tex paper.

And now Jesse Wilkerson, a boyhood employee of this old newspaper and a published author, is contributing short-story reminiscences of old Cameron. Albertson has been published, too, in Texas metro daily magazine sections and other magazines.

We blow these horns for the talent they contribute to this newspaper, which will be 108 years old in three issues.

Wilkerson spans about half of those years in his knowledge of the newspaper, though he has lived away from The Herald for the greater part of his life.

Dumb as we are, we're smart enough to ask these people to help keep you informed and entertained.

No New Candidates For City, School

Blinn Relays First

8 Meets Await Tracksters

Six track relays and two area meets await the '67 Yoe cindermen. Ten of 1966's 14 lettermen are returning to Yoe Stadium workouts this spring, prepping for the March 3 Blinn Relays in Brenham.

Through the balance of March and April, the Yoe track and fieldmen will be traveling to out-of-town meets, except for April 8 when they host about 25 squads at the traditional Cameron relays.

Cameron finished second in the 17AA District Meet last year. Returning lettermen include senior 440-yard dashmen Leo Michalka and Bill Goeke, and senior hurdler Jack McKinney.

Junior lettermen returning include miler Paul Chandler, who ran as a sophomore in the State AA Meet in Austin, finishing seventh.

Juniors Glen Fogle, Wayne Kirk, Al Heft, Jim Lafferty, and Mike Miller are back for the '67 season. Miler Richard Vasquez is not running track this year.

Hudson TV Robbed, Intruders Replace Broken Door Lock

Burglars broke into Hudson TV on the Waco Highway late Saturday night, escaping with a color television, 3 regular television sets, a radio, several small items and a few dollars in change.

Sheriff Carl Black said the intruders apparently broke the lock on the front door and replaced the lock with one of their own as they left.

He said a surgical glove had been found in the store and it had been forwarded to Austin for lab investigation.

Holiday Friday

Public Schools Week Mar. 6-10

Cameron students will have a holiday tomorrow (Friday) while teachers attend the District 10, Texas State Teachers Association convention in Austin. Classes will resume Monday, March 6, with the opening of Public School Week in Texas.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said open house hours at each school will provide an opportunity for parents and others in the community who are interested in the schools, to visit the classrooms and meet the teachers and administrators.

Yoe High School will have open house from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, March 9. Science Fair projects will be on display that night and teachers will be in their home rooms to visit with patrons.

Open house at O. J. Thomas will be from 8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Friday, March 10. Their Science Fair exhibits will be on display that evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

Hours for open house in the Ada Henderson and Ben Milam schools will be 8:30 to 9 p.m. Thursday, March 9. Teachers will be in their rooms to meet parents.

The Texas Public School System was founded 113 years ago and Public School Week has been observed throughout the state since 1950. In recent years, new teaching methods and technical teaching aids, which are on display, have added special interest to the open house.

first in the District mile relay and third in the 440-yard relay last year.

Mack McKinney, YHS '66 hurdler, led scoring last year with 20 1/2 points in nine meets and placing seventh in State AA broad jump. He went to the University of Texas on a football scholarship.

The Yoe track year promises some results with Cameron performers strong in the quarter mile and mile distances.

Michalka ran first and Goeke third in the District 440-yard dash last year. Chandler can improve his mile distance record which included three firsts for 70 points as a sophomore.

Yoe lettermen and their events include:

440-Yard Relay -- Michalka, Goeke and Fogle.
120-High Hurdles -- Fogle, Lafferty and McKinney.

400-Yard Dash -- Goeke and Michalka.

330-Intermediate Hurdles -- Fogle and Lafferty.

220-Yard Dash -- Heft.

Mile Run -- Chandler.

Mile Relay -- Goeke and Michalka.

Shot Put -- Miller.

Broad Jump -- Fogle.

Discus -- Fogle and Kirk.

The intermediate hurdles replace the 150 yard low hurdles, which now are 36 inches high, six inches above last year.

The '66 track squad won the Marlins Relays, finished second at the home Cameron Relays and in District, third at Taylor and Midway, fourth at Blinn Relays, fifth at Killeen and sixth in the Regional.

The 1967 track schedule is: March 3, Blinn Relays, Brenham; March 11, Hillsboro Relays, Hillsboro; March 18, Falls Relays, Marlins; March 23, Rockdale Relays; April 1, Midway Relays.

In announcing plans for the local Public School Week observance, Supt. Dodson said, "The growth and development of our state has been tied closely to the educational advantages available to Texas citizens and depend upon the continuance and furtherance of educational opportunities for all Texas children."

"Public Schools Week is an appropriate week for giving each pupil and each citizen who visits in the schools a better understanding of the vitally important responsibility which rests upon the public schools in a country governed by and for the people."

John S. Batte, chairman of the Milam County Livestock Committee, said cattle sales would probably start picking up next week with cattlemen cutting herds down in case of a drought. He added that a rain in the next two weeks would change the picture considerably.

Some cattlemen have started supplemental feeding from a good hay crop last year, Batte said.

Agriculture Leaders

Say Crop, Cattle

Picture Still Good

County agriculture leaders this week agreed that 2 or 3 inches of moisture in the next few weeks would be good for both crops and livestock, but that the situation was not yet serious.

Coleman Duncum, chairman of the Milam County Crops Committee, said most farmers were waiting to plant next week and hope for a rain by then. He added "it won't take much rain to put the land in good shape because of the good fall rains and underground moisture."

Duncum said spotted areas of the County have some moisture now.

J. D. Moore, County Agent, said it was hoped that farmers would be able to plant grain next week. Tests in the Temple Experiment Station last year showed that early March planting gave a 1,950 per acre gain in grain sorghum last year as opposed to land planted in early April.

John S. Batte, chairman of the Milam County Livestock Committee, said cattle sales would probably start picking up next week with cattlemen cutting herds down in case of a drought. He added that a rain in the next two weeks would change the picture considerably.

CHAPMAN FILES PETITION FOR CHARTER VOTE

A petition signed by 136 people was filed with City Secretary Buddy Fuller 11:50 a.m. Wednesday calling for an election to change the City police chief's job from appointive to elective status.

Fuller said the petition was presented by Frank Chapman, of Cameron, former city police chief who was fired a few months ago by a 3-2 vote of the City Council.

Fuller told The Herald the petition has been turned over to the City Atty. Charles Smith, Jr., for review of the 136 signers, to determine if all requirements for submitting such a petition have been met.

The petition submitted by Chapman seeks to amend the present City Charter, written and approved by residents in the early 1950's, to make the job of police chief an elective post rather than appointive.

During the City Council meeting last week, Mayor Bassel Wilson read a letter from State Rep. Milton Schiller which noted that 66 of some 77 cities polled by the Texas League of Municipalities hired their police chiefs through the City Council. The balance elected them, the letter stated.

City Councilman R. W. Wells last week urged that Councilmen say in a decision though not voting for it in the majority. He addressed his remarks to Councilman J. C. Marek, who had posted a copy of the petition in his business. Marek and Lawrence Zoltz had voted to retain Chapman while the other three councilmen voted to dismiss him.

The City Charter calls for a vote within 60 days of a Council ordinance calling for a Charter referendum.

Shell Deep Wildcat

Abandoned, 3rd Try

For Smackover Fails

The Shell Oil Company of Houston said it failed for the third time in three years to find the Smackover in Milam County when their deep wildcat, the No. 2 Adoue Estate, was junked after drill pipe stuck at 14,250 feet could not be recovered despite two weeks of fishing.

Drilling crews were reported on Monday to be plugging back the wildcat from total depth of 14,622 feet to 5,935 feet to test the Austin Chalk.

Cause of the stuck drill pipe was not reported. There was some speculation the wildcat had drilled into salt, as the company's two earlier wildcats did, and which could have caused the trouble, but one source said the No. 2 Adoue was not drilling in salt when the drillpipe became stuck.

After the third expensive attempt therefore, it still is not known whether the prolific oil and gas bearing Smackover formation can be found in Milam County.

Shell's two earlier Smackover wildcats were the No. 1 Adoue Estate, plugged in May, 1964, at 14,457 feet after drilling into salt, and the No. 1 Nell Ross, also bottomed in salt and plugged at 15,230 feet in June, 1965.

Property in Milam County is valued at $31,551,305. Taxes on the roll total $299,753.07 for the county and $11,488.26 collected by the county for the state.

County officials said about 92 percent of 1966 taxes were paid before the February 28 deadline.

CAMERON SEEKS $1,800, PACT

ON RURAL FIRES

Mayor Bassel Wilson Wednesday discussed the popularity of the proposed 90-block city paving program, now up to 110 blocks, in a talk before Rotarians.

And he read excerpts from a letter of February 22 to the County written by him and authorized by the Cameron City Council which requested the County Commissioners to budget $1,800 annually effective new County budget year August 1 for City fire service to County fires.

The Commissioners' Court had not met since the February 21 meeting with Rockdale and Cameron officials, according to the County Judge's office. The letter read in part Wednesday by Mayor Wilson was dated the day after the County-City meeting and a Council meeting at which city officials urged the need for a contract and payment for grassfire calls.

Mayor Wilson noted that additional blocks of residents "petitioned verbally" to be added to the proposed 90-block layout (Herald map of February 23).

The Mayor said:

"Any street of residents where more than 50 percent of the occupants seek paving, the project will be undertaken by the City."

"That financing is available through a San Antonio firm which provides up to 5 years to pay any assessment for one-third of the paving in front of resident's home. The firm specializes in such loans and services."

"That curbing could be paid for by the resident, and is not a part of the paving assessment program for 1967."

"That bids will be called for the entire project, when finally drawn, from out-of-town contractors for completion by this fall. The City will not attempt to undertake a project of this size."

"That the City will follow the established formula of one-third payment by resident or property owner on either side of the street and a final one-third share from the City for intersections and finishing costs."

"Representatives from the financing firm, specialists in the field, will make contacts with each property owner, explaining the program."

City Councilmen and Mayor Wilson are soon to meet with State Highway Dept. officials about the widening of North Travis north from West Fourth St. (US 190-US 77 to accommodate four-lane traffic, much like the four-lane arrangement on West Fourth St. through the City).

Mayor Wilson also noted that sites are still to be selected for 50 additional units under a $753,552 loan from the U.S. Dept. of Housing. He said rents were determined by income and "low-rent housing" meant the cost of rental and not the initial construction cost of the project, 36 duplex units for the elderly and 14 regular two and three bedroom units.

The Mayor also noted that the planning application for urban renewal funds would not likely be available until after the new federal fiscal year (July 1), but a possibility of an "urgent request" might speed the application through before the fiscal year end.

IRS Questions

Q - I think I'm liable for self-employment tax. Which form do I use?

A - Use Schedule C-3 to report this tax. Any tax due should be entered on your Form 1040, line 15, page 1, and paid with your income tax.

Copies of Schedule C-3 may be obtained from local IRS offices as well as some post offices and banks.

Q - I got married this January. Can I file a joint return with my wife for 1966?

A - For tax purposes, your marital status is determined by whether you were married or single on the last day of the taxable year for which the return is filed. From the information you provide, you must file a separate return since you were not married until after the close of your 1966 tax year.

Q - I heard a lot about changes in educational deductions last year. Can I still deduct courses required by an employer?

A - Yes, you can if the course is required by your employer to maintain your present job. The cost of educational courses may also be deducted if they are taken primarily to maintain or improve the skills required on your present job.

Q - Our baby had a bad skin rash last year and the doctor advised us to use a diaper service instead of doing the diapers ourselves. Is the cost of the service a medical expense?

A - No, this is not a deductible medical expense.

Q - I have some income from the sale of a home to report. Where should I do this on my 1040?

A - Gains or losses from property sales should be reported on Schedule D and then entered on Page 2 of the Form 1040 on line 5. Part II. Copies of Schedule D may be obtained from local IRS offices as well as some banks and post offices.

Q - I've heard that you should identify your payments of tax to IRS to make sure they are credited to your account. How do you do this?

A - To identify your tax payment, put your Social Security number (or, if you are an employer, your Employer Identification number) on the check or money order. If the payment is in response to a notice of payment due, please enclose the notice with your payment.

Q - My husband is stationed in South Vietnam with the Marines. What do we do about our 1966 tax return?

A - Military personnel on active duty in a Combat Zone do not have to file tax returns while stationed there. You may therefore wait to file a joint 1966 tax return until 180 days after your husband leaves Vietnam. This postponement does not apply to the filing of a separate return by the wife if she chooses to file one.

If you want to file your return for 1966 early because you have a refund coming, indicate in the space provided for your husband's signature that he is on military duty in Vietnam.

Q - Do I have to report the interest on savings bonds I bought for my son?

A - It depends on how the bonds are registered. If the child is listed as co-owner on the bond, the purchaser is liable for tax on the interest. If the child is sole owner with the parent as beneficiary, the child assumes the tax liability.

Q - My wife and I have always filed joint returns. Can we switch to separate returns this year if it is to our advantage?

A - Yes, you can.

Q - I have to use my car in business. Can I deduct anything for this?

A - Check your 1040 instruction booklet to see whether the use of your car qualifies as an allowable business deduction. If it does, you may either deduct your actual expenses in operating the car or 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7 cents a mile thereafter.

If you use the mileage method, a speedometer reading at the beginning and end of each business trip will establish the amount you can deduct. Tolls and parking fees will be deductible in addition to the mileage allowance.

If you are reimbursed by your employer for the use of the car, the amount you deduct must be reduced by that amount. Any excess over the expenses should be declared as income.

Q - We are moving out of the state next month. Should I mail my return to the district office at my new address?

A - No, mail your return to the IRS office indicated in the 1040 instructions based on your address at the time you file the return.

However, if you move before leaving a forwarding address. One reason many refunds are delayed is that the Post Office is unable to locate the taxpayer.

Q - When I itemize deductions can I list what I've paid in taxes on wine and liquor?

A - No, there is no deduction for these taxes on individual income tax returns.

Q - I was in an auto accident last year and had to pay part of the cost of having the other fellow's car fixed. Is that deductible?

A - No. The deduction for a casualty loss is allowed only to the person who owns the property.

Q - The statement the bank sent me on interest paid on my savings account last year is wrong. If the bank sends IRS the same information it could mess up my return. Is there anything I can do about it when I file?

A - Enter the correct amount on your return. You should consider the possibility that the bank is including interest which is paid automatically by adding it to your account at the proper time - often at the end of the year. It will not appear on your pass book until the bank has brought it up to date.

If you are sure of the bank's error, you should notify them. An explanation of the error should be attached to the return.

Q - Do I report capital gains on line 1c of Part II of the 1040 where it says capital gains distribution?

A - No. Distributions from certain investment companies, such as mutual funds, which represent capital gain dividends, are to be entered on this line. These amounts are also entered on line 8, Schedule D (Form 1040).

Also reported on Schedule D, in the appropriate sections, are the gains or losses realized upon the sale or exchange of property. For instance, the sale of capital stock which you have held for more than six months is reported on line 5, Part I of the form. Additional information about Schedule D may be found in the instruction booklet and on the form itself.

13 Children Left Homeless By Fire On So. Rusk Sunday

A fire in the 800 block of South Rusk Sunday afternoon destroyed two houses, one occupied by Louise Brown and her 13 children.

The fire which originated in the Brown house was reported at 3:15 p.m. Sunday. Flames had already spread to the vacant house next door. No one was at home when the fire started, but Fire Marshall John Andres said it had been caused either by faulty electrical wiring or possibly had been ignited by cinders from a trash fire outside. Both houses were owned by Leland Green.

The children left homeless by the fire range in age from 2 to 18. They are temporarily staying with their grandparents at Morrison and Bark Street.

Ceremony Unites Ribar, Morris

Miss Emma Jean Morris became the bride of Ensign Joseph Richard Ribar in a ceremony Saturday afternoon at the Most Precious Blood Catholic Church, Corpus Christi.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Marion Taylor Morris of Corpus Christi. Mrs. Anna Ribar of Ambridge, Pa., is the groom's mother.

The bride wore a formal length gown of pearly and scalloped chantilly lace, sabrina neckline with long sleeves coming to a point. The yoke redingote front revealed a demifit A-line gown of nylon organza. The lace cage effect swept into a chapel train. Her veil of illusion was held by a forward spray of lace leaves edged in seed pearls.

Miss Marian Morris, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Jane Gurecky of Austin, cousin of the bride, and Miss Edith Mokry of Corpus Christi. They wore formal length gowns of brocade and crepe, designed with empire bodices of dark green with bell sleeves and lime green A-line skirts. Their headpieces were of brocade roses trimmed with green veils. Flower girl was Carole Ann Morris, the bride's sister. She wore a cage effect dress of tiers of white lace over green.

Best man was Ensign Richard Kessman. Groomsmen were Ensign Edward Riley and Charles Brandesky. Serving as page was John Gurecky III.

The bride attended Mary Carroll High, Corpus Christi; Del Mar College and Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, where she received a B.S. degree.

Ensign Ribar attended Ambridge High, Ambridge, Pa. and Palm Beach College, Palm Beach, Fla.

STUDENT NURSES — Mrs. Irene Mitchell, Mrs. Mary Praesel, Mrs. Daisy Manners, Mrs. Kathrene Kaler, Mrs. Kay Finney and Mrs. Lois Beathard with St. Edward Hospital Vocational Nursing School Director, Sister Mary Dolores.

12 Month Course
Future Nurses In Training Here
 A class of six vocational nursing students are starting their third month of training in the St. Edward 12-month nursing course which is preparing them for medical, surgical, obstetrical and pediatric work in hospitals or the home nursing field.
 The St. Edward Vocational Nursing School re-opened January 3 and was visited Monday by Mrs. Mary Nye Herbert, representative of the Texas State Board of Vocational Nurses, who surveyed the school to assure the availability of proper clinical and classroom facilities for nursing students.
 The 12 month course includes approximately 2,000 hours of clinical experience and 500 class hours. Sister Mary Dolores is director of the school and Sister Mary Petronella, R.N., and Sister Mary Justus, R.N., assist with the clinical teaching.
 Sister Dolores was graduated from St. Joseph's School of Nursing at Houston and earned her Bachelor of Science degree at McNeese State College in Lake Charles, Louisiana. She has done post graduate study in Operating Room Administration at Charity Hospital of Louisiana in New Orleans and Ochsner Foundation, also in New Orleans. She completed anesthesia education at St. John's Hospital in Springfield, Illinois. She also taught professional nursing students before coming to Cameron.

Rogers School Plans Open House March 9

ROGERS
 The administrators of the Rogers Public Schools are issuing the annual invitation for the faculty, students, and Board of Trustees, that all the people of the school district visit their school system during Public Schools Week which is held this year March 6-10.
 The Week has been highly successful in the Rogers Public Schools, through the efforts of faculty and the Rogers Parent Teacher Association.
 During this special week, the Junior National Honor Society with Mrs. Selma Cannon as sponsor will conduct registration in the elementary grades. The Junior High and the High School Student Councils will have charge of registration elsewhere. They will have a guidance and reception center in the main foyer, and a high school registration booth, with Mrs. Johnnie Martin as sponsor.
 The Junior High Council with Mrs. Ada Jean Cowen as sponsor will furnish welcome ribbons to visitors.
 The main purpose of Public School Week is to get school patrons and parents to visit school and see regular classroom work. There will be no special programs and regular school work will go on throughout the week, Supt. Harbour said.
 In the past, the Rogers PTA has promoted special events each day throughout Public Schools Week, but this year the committee, headed by Mrs. Woodrow Chervenska, planned one big event and that is Open House 7:30 to 9:30 pm. Thursday. Teachers will be in their rooms to receive parents and show various aspects of their children's work that has been done during the year.
 The PTA will serve refreshments in the gym center. Mrs. Darrell Henson is president of the PTA. Mrs. R. A. Partin is social chairman.

Citrus Fruit, Eggs And Rice Top List Of Plentiful Foods

Eggs, oranges, grapefruit, pork and rice comprise the major portion of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's most plentiful foods list, with peanut products, green split peas and canned salmon furnishing the remainder.

March breakfasts can be inexpensive and tasty if foods from the plentiful list are utilized, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. They should be colorful also.

Egg production is expanding rapidly with a 4 to 6 percent increase expected above last spring's level. The attractive March prices of eggs will undoubtedly add to the consumer's interest.

Oranges and grapefruit appear on the "plentiful" for a second straight month — oranges led the list in February.

Peanut producers and rice farmers look forward to this month and the celebration of National Peanut Week, March 8-18, and National Rice Week, March 12-18.

Peanut producers last year produced a record high crop of 1.111 thousand tons, 2 percent greater than the 1965 output. Rice production was eleven percent greater in '66 than the previous year's record.

Canned salmon also is expected to be among the bargain March values because of plentiful stocks of over 3 million standard cases, 23 percent greater than the previous years.

Wasps Cause Leaf 'Knots'

By J. D. Moore

This article dealing with Gall Wasps is designed to help readers understand what causes those "knots" on the leaves of shade trees and other plants, during summer months. At the Landscape Workshop, held in January, there were numerous questions asked about this condition.

The Gall Wasps or Cynipids are small insects, mostly 1/4 inch in length or less. They are wasp-like or ant-like in appearance, mostly black or reddish-brown, have four transparent wings, and a stout, usually oval abdomen. The young, or larvae, are whitish, legless "magots" found only inside galls. Both the adult and young are easily identified by the galls which they produce and in which they develop.

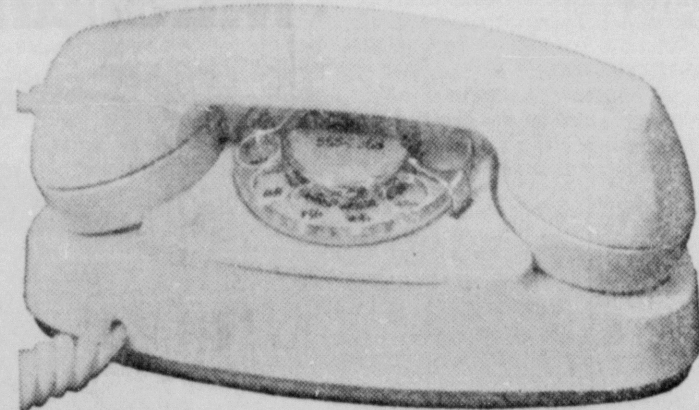

All parts of a tree are susceptible to attack, with galls also being formed on the finer roots, the bark of the larger roots, the bark of the trunk, the larger branches, the buds and flowers. Almost every conceivable size and shape exists ranging from slight inconspicuous swellings to oval or globose enlargements. In a number of species, there may be remarkable diversities; some are disk-shaped, others top-shaped, angulate or even ornamented with well-marked facets or strongly spined surfaces. Leaf galls may occur singly, in groups, or even masses and may be smooth or more or less densely covered with a cottony-like, wooly substance.

Just how each Cynipid species forms a distinctly different type of gall remains a mystery. However, in general, the following process occurs. After the female deposits an egg in the plant tissue, it responds in an abnormal growth of cells which engulfs the soon hatching tiny larva. Both continue to grow until the larva reaches maturity, when it pupates into an adult, cuts a small hole in the gall and emerges to mate and begin the cycle anew.

Control of this group of insects must presently be directed towards killing the female before she is able to deposit her eggs. If the entire group emerged at the same time and deposited their eggs during the same period, this would be relatively simple. However, each of the 205 gall forming species has an entirely different life cycle. Their perpetuation may be relatively simple or it may be extremely complex. The life cycle may be completed in a few weeks or it may require several months to four or five years. In many species, alternate generations are spent inside inconspicuous galls on other plants with the insects returning at varying periods to form new galls on oaks. Some species emerge from galls and drop to the ground still in the larval stage where up to five years may be spent before again emerging as adults and re-parasitizing oaks. The life cycle of many remain a mystery and have never been worked out.

Since only a specialist who has worked with these galls for many years is able to differentiate between the individual known galls, thus exposing the life cycle and egg laying dates of the known species, it is impossible to say specifically when sprays are to be applied. However, in the case of

Charge For Princess Phone Is Reduced

EFFECTIVE March 1, the monthly charge for a Princess® telephone is reduced from 75¢ to 50¢ for Southwestern Bell customers in Texas — a 25¢ reduction.

This is in addition to reductions in long distance rates and some miscellaneous charges, announced late last year, which will mean a saving of more than $6,000,000 a year to Texas telephone users.

IN these times when almost all other prices are going up, we are glad to be able to make a further reduction in the cost of your telephone service...now a bigger bargain than ever before.

Southwestern Bell

group has a tendency to emerge and deposit during early spring. Also consider the fact that most trees are able to support a large number of galls without serious damage. Insecticides and timing of applications are listed in L-139, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants, available at the County Agent's office.

Briefly, two applications of Sevin or DDT at the rate of two tablespoons per gallon of water applied when the leaves are about one-third grown (middle of April) and repeat the application the first week in May should control the insects.

Committee Plans '67 Field Crop Demonstrations

The Milam County Crops Committee met last Monday night, in the county agent's office, to review last year's crop demonstrations and set up plans for 1967 demonstration work in field crops.

Coleman Duncum, local equipment dealer and farmer, was re-elected chairman of the committee. Tests will be run with grain sorghum varieties, cotton varieties, fertilizer tests, chemical weed control in maize and cotton. New tests added this year will include trace minerals, zinc, manganese, magnesium, and sulphur, under cotton, corn and maize.

Committee members attending were Wilburn Beekhusen and Willie Glaser, Buckholts; Gene Angell, Anton Moraw, Frank Kratochvil, Reeves Brown, Clifford Angell, Hugo Aigner, Eugene Klein, Kenneth Hollas, John A. Smith, Joe Mueck and Mack Biggers. Perry Edwards, field representative for a chemical company also attended the meeting.

These demonstrations are conducted and will be reported to give those interested, an opportunity to become better acquainted with the application of research and to learn more about new farming techniques. The annual tour will be held about the middle of July to visit these tests and the results.

A new measuring device developed by the Atomic Energy Commission is so sensitive it can record the heat generated when an insect moves its antennae.

Select Tax Advisor
Carefully, IRS Says

AUSTIN
Taxpayers seeking professional help in filing their 1966 Federal income tax returns should select only qualified and reputable advisors.

While the majority of tax practitioners are competent and honest, District Director of Internal Revenue R. L. Phinney alerted taxpayers to these potential danger signals:

1. Beware of the "expert" who will not be around to answer your questions after the return has been prepared and filed;
2. Never sign a blank return and leave it with a stranger;
3. Do not sign a tax return prepared in pencil, since the return can be changed later;
4. Avoid the advisor who "guarantees" refunds, wants a percentage of the refund, or supposedly knows all the angles; and
5. Be on your guard if it is suggested that your refund check be mailed to the practitioner's address.

COMPETITION FOR LABOR
Competition for efficient farm workers is forcing more farmers to mechanize and automate more and more of their productive processes, says W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University.

Because of the ever-increasing investments in machines and workers, many farm jobs are being done by commercial hire or automatic equipment. The effective use of commercial hire must be carefully planned in advance, says the engineer. Such a system cannot be turned on and off like a light switch, he warns.

Building Slow In '66....

The effect of higher interest, to slow construction and spare inflation, has shown its effect in Cameron building permits during 1966.

That last year saw $131,929 in permits, just about half of the previous three-year average.

They were: 1965 -- $266,717; 1964 -- $226,417; and 1963 -- $267,910.

Projected construction of 50 units for the Cameron Housing Authority will mean some $753,552 in total project cost, not necessarily just for building, sometime this year. But building permits, mostly registering movement of buildings and additions, is a paltry $4,700.

The prospect of a $1 million hospital in the next year or so adds impetus to the building future of Cameron.

And a reduction of a quarter of one percent on the prime interest rate should ease things.

It follows that additional construction will accompany such prospects of major construction in a town of about 6,000. The flow of dollars turns several times after they are introduced into an economy.

And it should mean one of the better construction years for Cameron by late '67.

Continuing Progress ..

An official of Texas Industrial Commission last week told the Cameron Industrial Foundation's industrial team that Cameron has shown progress in financing equal to or better than any other town of similar size in Texas.

Don Raburn, who helped design the first TIC community clinic in Texas, which was held in Cameron in 1965, heard progress reports on numerous activities in Cameron from men responsible for their development.

His comment on industrial financing is some indication of the major strides Cameron has taken. He also heard status reports on the urban renewal planning application now in Washington, prospects for a fall election on a modified Elm Creek Watershed, site location work for CIF, Inc., and other development prospects including the proposed hospital.

Considerable expansion is also scheduled at Elm Creek Farm, the ultra-modern dairy northwest of the City. Additional 4,000 square feet of shed is under construction at Cameron Livestock Auction. These are new projects soon to be or just under construction.

Thus Mr. Raburn, or any visitor to Cameron, particularly those who watch such basic moves develop, can agree that "Matchless Milam's" county seat continues to progress.

REEF CATTLE PHOSPHORUS

Reef cattle producers need to consider the amount of phosphorus their herds are getting. This mineral, says U. D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman, is highly deficient in dry pasture forage, a condition which is now widespread in Texas.

Thompson suggests that producers contact their local county agent for detailed information and methods of supplying this very important mineral.

The fish solubles significantly improved hatchability during the

Dr. Shellenberger Addresses Doctors At Med Meeting

Dr. C. G. Shellenberger, Waco pediatrician, addressed about 75 doctors Tuesday night at a monthly dinner of the Milam Medical Society. The dinner was held at the Rockdale Country Club.

latter part of the laying season. No effect on egg production, fertility, feed consumption, feed efficiency or body weight loss was noted, said Dr. R. L. Atkinson, Poultry Science Department.

Texas Medical District

Presiding at the meeting was Dr. C. G. Swift, 1967-68 president of the Milam Medical Society. Dr. John Richards, of Rockdale, is vice-president, and Dr. Travis Green, also of Rockdale, is secretary. Dr. S. H. Richardson, of Cameron, is alternate to the TMA station convention.

Reapportionment To Rise Again?

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Legislative redistricting reared its ugly head suddenly and fearfully for Texas' House of Representatives. A U.S. Supreme Court decision invalidates the carefully stuck together reapportionment act of 1965 for representative districts.

This unexpected court action has changed redistricting from a routine cleanup chore into a major task. It could very well mean the end of the political line for some representatives and possible shaking of House unity.

Court found population variances among representative districts (up to 26 percent) too great to meet its one man - one vote standard and sent the 1965 districting plan back to Houston federal judges for recheck.

Representatives had figured all that was necessary this year was elimination of the 11 flatorial districts criticized by the Houston federal district court. Now, they are faced with wholesale redrawing of lines to equalize population discrepancies statewide.

Speaker Ben Barnes acknowledged "It is a difficult situation."

Big city lawmakers said they soon would introduce a bill to give Bexar, Dallas and Harris Counties one more representative each (high court held they were entitled to that) and adjust other variances.

Sensing that congressional reapportionment also might be struck down, redistricting acts in this area were introduced by Reps. R. L. Vale and Jake Johnson of San Antonio and Rep. Frank Cahoon of Midland.

LIQUOR-BY-JIGGER -- A bill to legalize sale of liquor by the drink in Texas was introduced this week.

Rept. John Field and Dick McKissack, both of Dallas, are House authors. Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso is the Senate sponsor.

Highlights of the bill are: —Open saloons (banned by constitution) are defined as places devoted exclusively to sale of liquor for on-premise consumption. Bill would legalize mixed-drink permits for qualified hotels, private clubs, restaurants and lodges — businesses or organizations NOT engaged exclusively in the business of selling liquor.

—Measure would authorize mixed drink sales in some 122 counties where on-premise consumption of beer and wine and package store sales already are permitted. Provision is made for local elections in these areas on specific issue of mixed drinks. Failure of election would not affect status of other alcoholic beverages. In other areas, affirmative vote would be required for mixed drinks.

—Drinks would be subject to five cents an ounce tax, plus two percent sales tax. Retail drink permits would cost $1,000 at state level. Cities and counties could assess fees of $500 each. Beverage servers would pay an annual fee of $12. Private clubs in wet areas must operate under the same regulations as retail drink establishments and pay the permit fee. Those in dry areas will pay a special registration fee and a 10 percent gross receipts tax.

—Texas Liquor Control Board would administer permits and enforce the law.

SHEEP DIP BILL -- A bill to relax state standards for importation of sheep from other states has passed both houses of the Legislature. But each house passed its own bill -- though they say the same -- so one must do it again.

Senate passed its SB 183, House passed its HB 396. Now, either the Senate must pass the House version, or the House the Senate version, in order for the measure to be ready for Governor Connally's signature.

Present law requires mandatory dipping of sheep brought into Texas, except those going to slaughter. New bill would allow the Animal Health Commission to accept certificates from other states that shipments are free from scabies.

TIME MARCHES ON -- Legislators had time on their hands and their minds as House State Affairs Committee conducted the longest hearing of this legislative session on the bill to outlaw daylight saving time in Texas.

Committee heard witnesses for nearly seven hours, until after 2 a.m., arguing both sides of the proposed act by Reps. Will Smith of Beaumont and Ralph Wayne of I anview.

Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 will place all states on daylight saving time from May to October unless a state's special legislation exempts it.

Lining up in favor of the bill were restaurant and theater owners and the farm bureau.

Opposing it were radio and television stations, investment bankers and some newspapers.

STATE KINDERGARTEN -- Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth is sponsoring a bill to provide free public education for five-year-olds, with the state sharing the expense with local school districts on a 50-50 basis.

Kennard said the program would cost $24,500,000 for the first two years and that 50 percent of the five-year-olds would attend classes next year, 60 percent the second year and as many as 80 percent by 1970-71.

"A kindergarten program established under rules set up by the Texas Education Agency, is the most vital step Texas should take in improving our school system", the senator said. "There is abundant evidence that six years is too late an age to start children in school."

A. G. OPINIONS -- Proposed Medical Assistance Act of 1967 would authorize medical care benefits to inmates of state mental hospitals, under new state-federal "medicaid" program, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin. However, inmates will remain ineligible for old age assistance benefits.

In other opinions, Martin concluded that:

—A prisoner who received a suspended sentence under the old criminal code may not have his sentence reduced or terminated under provision of the new code.

—A bill to provide benefits to survivors of firemen and law enforcement officers killed in line of duty cannot be made retroactive.

—It is not within the discretion of a trial court to stay an order of the Department of Public Safety suspending a driver's license or motor vehicle registration.

QUALITY MILO NO ACCIDENT

Most consumers take the high quality standards maintained by dairymen for granted and do not stop to consider why the milk delivered to their homes or purchased at the store is of the best quality found in the world, reminds A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist at Texas A&M. Sanitation standards observed and carried out on Texas dairy farms are due to inspection programs enforced by local and state health departments, says the specialist.

That The C.I.A. Is Not Financing His Farming

Dear editor:

Every newspaper I've picked up out here lately has had another long article on what the C.I.A. has been doing, and I've done my best to keep track of it.

As I understand it, the C.I.A., or Central Intelligence Agency, gets a lot of secret money from Congress to keep this country informed on what's going on behind the scenes around the world, and to help counteract Communism, and smarter men than I recognize it's a valuable work and I believe it.

However, it might not be a bad idea to give an intelligence test to the man in the outfit who thought he could hand out money to college students and keep it quiet.

The way the newspaper articles explained it, a lot of the college students didn't know the C.I.A. was supplying them with money, and I believe it, but you can't depend on all students staying in the dark all the time. One or two of them were bound to catch on. On the other hand, a lot of organizations run by grown men were unaware of where their money was coming from, so you don't necessarily have to be a college student to be fooled.

A friend of mine in town got to thinking about all this and he stopped me and said, "Say, I understand you farmers are always getting government checks. You reckon the C.I.A. is behind that?"

I have investigated this thoroughly, and I can state that unquestionably and beyond a shadow of a doubt the C.I.A. is not financing me or any other farmer.

It is an insult to our intelligence to suggest such a thing. It is outrageous to even think it.

Certainly the C.I.A. is not financing me.

But in this connection I would like to say, How do you get in touch with them?

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

SPEEDED UP LAMBING

Research workers at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center near McGregor are getting more than the usual one lamb crop per year. They are getting about three crops in two years. They cite these developments as making speeded up lambing possible: control of the screwworm, widespread acceptance of early weaning of lambs and the increasing use of high concentrate rations in lamb feeding.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Through the Loophole

No doubt about it: the case was a shocker. A city alderman had been caught taking a bribe. But when he was brought to trial, it turned out that there was a loophole in the state's criminal code. By mistake, the code failed to make this particular action a crime.

So the alderman went free.

As speedily as possible, the state legislature passed a new law closing the loophole. But as far as the alderman was concerned, it was too late. He had slipped safely through the law's clutches.

Does that make sense? Should the court let a man "get away with it" just because of a loophole in the law?

We have to start with one blunt fact: no law is perfect, with no loopholes at all. Human wisdom cannot foresee all the possible variations of conduct that may arise in the course of time.

Still, when a mistake in the law is so obvious, shouldn't the court stretch a point in the interest of justice? For example, in the alderman's case the court might have said:

"Loophole or no loophole, this fellow has done a wrong thing and must be punished."

The trouble is, a court simply does not have that power under our constitutional system. Judges may interpret laws, but not make them. In the words of the United States Supreme Court:

"It is the legislature, not the court, which is to define a crime and ordain its punishment."

To be sure, there is harm in letting a wrongdoer escape the punishment he deserves. But in the process, he gives society vital information—just as the escaping fish shows the fisherman where his net needs patching.

And closing even a single loophole in the law may have far-reaching consequences. Thus:

A flour company in New York once used a society girl's picture in its ads without asking for her permission. When she sued, the court could find nothing in the law that forbade such unwanted publicity. The girl's suit was dismissed.

In short order, the state legislature closed the loophole with a new law. And, as it turned out, this law was the cornerstone of one of the most significant legal developments of our times.

It was, in fact, the first "right of privacy" law in history. A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

OUTDOOR TIPS —

Fishing, as delightful as it is, becomes a bore to a youngster if fish are slow to bite or are lacking. But in the little ponds the bream and perch seem to have unending appetites and offer youngsters a lot of exciting action.

Only two Confederate state capitals remained uncaptured during the Civil War, the National Geographic says. These were Tallahassee, Florida, and Austin, Texas.

Home economists estimate a housewife in a family of four washes 45,000 dishes a year.

When it's time for a great company meal, most homemakers turn to chicken. And for many an elegant recipe, she turns to tender flavorful chicken breasts. These are available in most supermarkets according to the National Broiler Council. One fine dish is Chicken Superb. Strips of white meat are coated with seasoned flour, fried, and served on rice with tangy Lemon Cream Sauce. Best news of all, the dish takes only about 10 minutes cooking time.

Chicken Superb

- 3 whole broiler-fryer chicken breasts
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons paprika
- 1/2 cup milk
- Salad oil
- 4 cups hot cooked rice

Bone chicken breasts; remove skin. Cut into 1/2-inch lengthwise strips. Combine flour, salt and paprika. Lay chicken strips into milk; then roll in seasoned flour. Pour oil to 1/2-inch depth in skillet; heat. Add chicken strips and fry until golden brown. To serve, mound rice on platter. Pour Lemon Cream Sauce* over rice and top with fried chicken strips.

YIELD: 6 servings.

*Lemon Cream Sauce: Melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine in saucepan. Blend in 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon paprika. Gradually stir in 1 1/2 cups water. Add 2 chicken bouillon cubes and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add 1 cup heavy cream and heat to serving temperature. Remove from heat; stir in 2 teaspoons lemon juice.

Safety Council To Recognize Heroism Of Rural Texans

Somewhere in rural Texas lives a person who is due a hero's award. He or she, adult or youth, may be a member of your family or one of your neighbors.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council is now seeking that individual and you can tell the Council where he or she lives and about the deed performed.

The individual being sought may have rescued another person from a burning building, saved a child from drowning or performed an heroic deed of another nature.

Whatever the deed, the Council would like to recognize and show their appreciation to the one considered by a selection committee as most typical of the nominees.

The Council will present to the person selected their Rural Heroism Plaque.

Nominees must come from a rural area or from a town of less than 2,500 population. It is easy to make the nomination. Just submit a narrative covering the heroic deed and include the details, such as the full names of all persons involved and news clippings and pictures if they are available.

Mail the entry before March 10 to Rural Heroism Safety Award, c/o Joe Smetana, Safety Director, Texas Farm Bureau, P. O. Box 469, Waco, Texas 76703.

Smetana is secretary-treasurer of the Council. Other officers are Tony Price of Dallas, president; and Bob Etheredge of Fort Worth, vice president.

Those sentimental serials which accompany many a housewife's daily chores have made an important contribution to our culture. They keep us mindful of the complications of living.

You can't follow a fictional family over an obstacle course of crises without realizing that your own family, too, has its ups and downs.

Elementary in this century is the fact that life can be—but ordinarily is not—beautiful!

We live in a time that requires serious planning of our todays and tomorrows. We ought especially to be concerned for our family's spiritual fibre... for the unfolding character of our children for the religious resources with which coming crises will be met.

The Church offers opportunity and inspiration in our quest of the lofty ideals of the Christian faith. The most important decision a family can make is to seek its finest aspirations through worship, religious study, and sacrificial service.

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By Vern Sanford

When Price Daniel was governor, he started the ball rolling to create
 Big Thicket park in southeast Texas.

That ball is still rolling. Not too much has been done, but it's apparent that the demand for such a park has grown so that it cannot fail.

Mayor Dempsey Henley of Liberty, testifying in behalf of Big Thicket, warned that the 350,000 acre wilderness rapidly is being ground under by bulldozers and poisoned by the chemicals of civilization.

"Unless we move soon," the mayor said, "the Big Thicket will be no more. It is vanishing at the rate of 50 acres a day."

A 1963 study by Texas Technological College recommended purchase of 50,000 acres for the park.
 Unfortunately there are hundreds of Texans who never have had the privilege of seeing this Big Thicket. It includes parts of Polk,
 Tyler, Hardin and Liberty counties.

In the Big Thicket are some of Texas' largest trees. More than 300 species of birds nest in the branches. Wild orchids and azaleas abound. Also to be found are perhaps the only black bear and panther in the state.

A&M Specialist Notes Trends In Feeding Cattle

Today's consumers, with more money to spend, are demanding higher grades of meat. To meet this demand, commercial feedlots in Texas are growing rapidly, and with them, certain economic trends are evolving.

Increased production of heavy beef along with further gains in slaughter calf feeding have met this demand, says Dr. Edward Uvacek, Jr., Extension livestock marketing specialist and assistant professor, Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, Texas A&M University, Texas, for the most part, still prefer fed calf, however; but their tastes are rapidly shifting to heavy beef. Further growth in Texas cattle feeding may emphasize the tremendous demands for fed calf in the Gulf Coast states.

With the economies of transportation favoring shipment of feeder animals rather than fat cattle, feeding in this state will become more oriented to local market demands. Furthermore, emphasis should be forthcoming on carcass yields and the ability of an animal to reach the Choice grade at a light weight.

Market demands, contends Uvacek, will dictate the types and classes of cattle produced in the future. A shift in the Southwest has been toward a heavier weight slaughter calf producing a 400-500 pound carcass while other areas of the country are moving toward a lighter weight heavy beef carcass in the 600-700 pound range. Both trends are, however, for Good and Choice grade carcasses.

The animal of the future will be the meat-type steer. It will be efficient in the feedlot and will produce the desirable type of carcass at least possible cost, says Uvacek. This animal may not belong to any particular breed or type of beef animal known today and might very well be a mixture.

The revolution that is occurring within the Texas cattle feeding industry will result in a future which will bear little resemblance to the cattle industry of yesterday. Further details and a more adequate explanation of this revolution can be found in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station bulletin, B-1055, "Economic Trends in Texas Cattle Feeding."

Dear Mr. T.:
Provided that an automobile is registered in the United States there are no restrictions on its sale in the Canal Zone. Neither are there any taxes assessed on such a sale. Dear Mrs. F.:
In October of 1954, the Department of State released a report entitled "The Korean Problem at the Geneva Conference, April 26-June 15, 1954." This publication is now out of print, but it might be obtained on interlibrary loan from one of the larger public or university libraries in the area. While no comparable report was issued on the Indochina phase of the conference, considerable documentation on this subject appears in "American Foreign Policy, 1950-1955: Basic Documents," pages 750-788 and 2372-2398.

I have been corresponding with a friend in Czechoslovakia for a year now about our common interest, reptiles. We wish to exchange live specimens of our native and some exotic reptiles. An expert at the Brookfield Zoo told me that the way to do this was to ask our respective State Departments for permission to send and receive snakes from each other. Would you please give your permission in writing and return it to me as soon as possible?
